

Photo finish

WANT A PICTURE-PERFECT PARTY LOOK? OUR EXPERTS HAVE THE TIPS

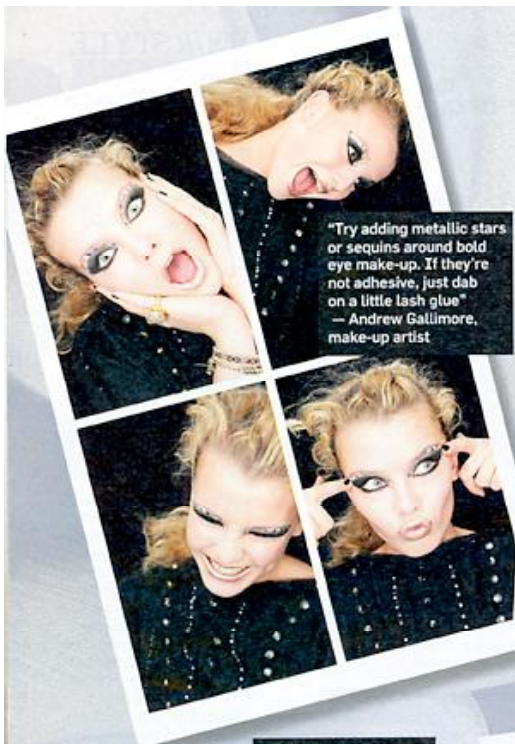

"For big party hair, look to old-school products. Opt for a really great mousse for volume or a gel to get hair sleek" — Lyndell Mansfield

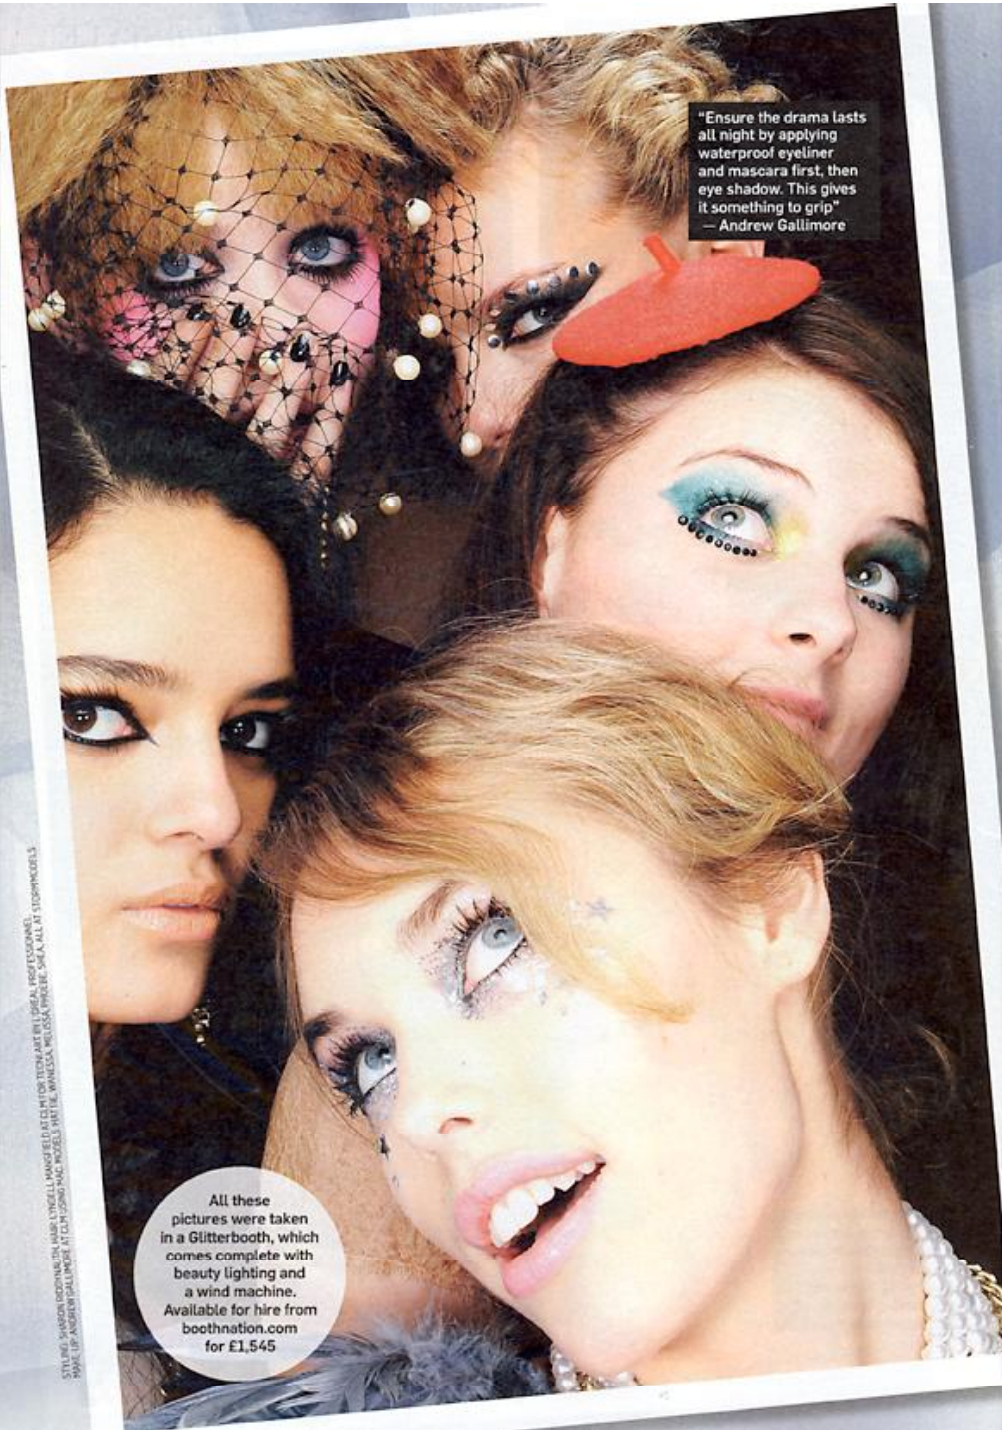

"Try adding metallic stars or sequins around bold eye make-up. If they're not adhesive, just dab on a little lash glue" — Andrew Gallimore, make-up artist

"Heated rollers are the easiest way to achieve a strong wave. Chuck a few in and leave to cool to create movement in your hair" — Lyndell Mansfield, hair stylist

"Remember, most parties are low-lit, so wear products with shimmer to bounce the light off your face" — Andrew Gallimore

"For a twist on the ever-popular false-lash look, apply a set to your lower eye, too. Just trim them to size" — Andrew Gallimore

"Ensure the drama lasts all night by applying waterproof eyeliner and mascara first, then eye shadow. This gives it something to grip"
— Andrew Gallimore

All these pictures were taken in a Glitterbooth, which comes complete with beauty lighting and a wind machine. Available for hire from boothnation.com for £1,545

STYLING: SHARON GOODWIN/TIN; HAIR: LYNELL JAMES/STYLING; MAKEUP: JESSIE MITCHELL/TRENART; BIRDS: JESSIE MITCHELL/TRENART; PROP: ANDREW GALLIMORE; SET DESIGN: ANDREW GALLIMORE; SET: THE WINESSA; WINESSA; PHOTOS: SARA KILL AT JUDITHPHOTOS

YOUR STYLE

BEAUTY

"Don't be shy about hair accessories. Think about the overall silhouette and see what works. Try Fred Butler for one-off creations"
— Lyndell Mansfield

"Women often wear much more make-up than usual during the party season, but don't look better for it. Emphasise your strongest feature and pare down the rest"
— Andrew Gallimore

"If you're rocking a strong lip, line perfectly, fill with colour and add a dab of lip gloss to catch the light"
— Andrew Gallimore

"Resist primping and preening hair — your palms carry so much moisture, hands are the biggest killer of hairstyles. Carry a tail comb and mini hairspray to plump up your do"
— Lyndell Mansfield